EDGREN'S COLUMN

BATTING NELSON has drawn the line on Gans. Not because of the latter's color, but because of the treatment the champion received when he fought in Baltimore. Maybe this is just as good a way as any other to shut off Herford's money-getter. He himself has declared that never again will he try to make the light-weight limit, and as Nelson has said he will not fight above it, a verbal meeting between the two would prove very tiresome to lovers of boxing.

And by the way, is the theatre going to prove as disastrous to Nelson as it has to Terry McGovern and a whole lot of other fighters? It is to be hoped not, as behind the footlight is not a place to develop qualities that win victories in the prize ring.

AND so President Phil Dwyer of the Aqueduct track has decided to retain the $3 price of admission to his meeting this fall. Did any sane man imagine he would do otherwise? It has been demonstrated that those who are foolish about the ponies will pay $3 for the privilege of losing six bets a day as quick as they will $2, and the track owners—well, they are not in the business for their health, they will tell you themselves, so they gladly accept the extra dollar.

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Owing to the postponement of yesterday's game and on account of the Giants' departure it was decided to play two games to-day with the team from the City of Churches, but by some mistake only one game was advertised.

First Inning.
 Dobbs went down and out on a pop-out to Bresnahan. The right field was very wet, and George Browne ran a block for Sheppard's fly. He only got two fingers on it, however, and Sheppard was credited with a two-bagger. Bresnahan dropped Lumley's third strike, but got the runner at first. Sheppard going to third. Gessler's grounder was pie for Dahlen. NO RUNS.

George Browne had a bad slump in his hitting today, suddenly returned to his form with a swell drive to center. Donlin followed with another neat one, placed between first and second. Browne chasing all the way to third. Gessler's grounder was pie for Dahlen. NO RUNS.

Second Inning.
 Lewis was a dead one, between Dahlen and McGinn. Hatch drove to the left field fence for a two-bagger. Hummel fanned. Devlin scooped up a short clout from Bergen. NO RUNS.

Devlin stopped at first with his knee. Hummel picked up Strang's hot pop and threw to first, striking Devlin. It would have been a double play had Gessler not dropped the ball. Bresnahan could not help things any, popping an easy one to Hummel. Matty punched a foul three blocks high to Gessler. NO RUNS.

Third Inning.
 McIntyre, with his sweater on, rapped out a clean hit in center. McGinn fanned. Dahlen's sacrifice bunt, Strang covering first. Sheppard was out on strikes, the third being a little "raw." Lumley fled out to Mertes. NO RUNS.

George Browne could not beat Hummel for a free pass. McGinn dropped one of his old-time singles in left. Sandow Mertes rapped three times in vain. Dahlen was also out on strikes. McIntyre having splendid control of his underhand shoot. NO RUNS.

Fourth Inning.
 Donlin walked under a pretty hoist from Gessler. Lewis cracked a drive that Donlin could not capture. It was good for two bases. Hatch got a base on balls. Hummel was there with a timely hit to right. Lewis holding third, filling the bases. McIntyre took Bergen's bounce and threw Lewis out at home, while Bresnahan doubled up Bergen. McIntyre was out on strikes. NO RUNS.

Fifth Inning.

GENERAL MAP OF THE COURSE

FAST MOTOR BOATS TO BE SEEN HERE

Spectators Are Likely to See Record for a Mile Lowered When Fliers Meet on the Hudson This Week.

Residents of New York and their visiting relatives will get three of the greatest opportunities of their lives this week to indulge in the spectacular. The coast will be the time necessary to view some of the races of a few minutes' duration each, a short walk or ride, and the inconvenience of finding a vantage point, which isn't so much of an inconvenience after all compared with the neck-twisting distortions attendant upon a good look-in at an already stunted.

Those who love speed trials—and that surely means nearly all humanity—will probably get due gratification. What they will see, if promises hold good, is the fastest mile ever traveled on the surface of the water by anything devised by the brain and hand of man.

Anywhere between West Sixty-third street and West One Hundred and Fifty-seventh street may be seen on Thursday, Friday and Saturday mornings the greatest race between marine flyers that ever was attempted, participated in by the fastest craft that ever were driven by power. There is almost a certainty that previous attainments will be surpassed.

Hereschoff Flyer Entered.
 Chief in interest, perhaps, among the competitors is the Hereschoff flyer, christened Den, in which a nephew of the greatest yacht designer in the world has exemplified his genius. The performance of this marine freak up on the Sound previous to the accident.

Browne and Dobbs got back to first in time to escape being doubled up. Lumley, who has done the trick before, hammered out a home run that never stopped before it hit the clubhouse, scoring Dobbs ahead. Dahlen threw Gessler out. Lewis planted a single in Mertes's territory. Lewis was out tealing. Dahlen taking the throw. TWO RUNS.

Devlin was allowed to walk, although the fourth ball split the plate. Strang was out on strikes. The third being so wide that it looked as if O'Day was trying to square things. Bresnahan walked. Matty fouled. Bresnahan grounded to Hummel. NO RUNS.

Ninth Inning.
 Strang rapped three times in vain. Dahlen also had a pop-out of Sheppard's pop. NO RUNS.

McIntyre made an awful mess of Matty's high ball. Matty's grounder was pie for Dahlen. Dahlen's grounder was pie for Dahlen. Dahlen's grounder was pie for Dahlen. NO RUNS.

which temporarily retired her from active speeding were accepted as marvelous. She was readily accredited with forty miles an hour, although her designer claimed not so much for her. Den has been virtually reconstructed since then, and is in shape to make good her reputation in the trials, which will be against the best speed negotiators of her kind.

The contests will be for the international, national and other championship trophies in the big motor car-ship. Nearly forty boats have been named to start in the various classes, more than were ever gathered before, and the entry list shows that the cream of the speed boats will strive for trophies and honors in the big tournament.

In the championship class will be such stars as the eight-cylinder Dixie, of 150 horse power, to be driven by E. H. Thomas, of the Seawanhaka Yacht Club. It has travelled at the rate of thirty-one miles an hour. Another fast one is Alexander Stein's Veritas, which goes through the water like a locomotive. The new Hereschoff speed creation is rated at fifty-seven horse power.

All Fast Boats to Go.
 The Panhard II, entered by Andre Massehat, has scored many successes and is considered a strong candidate for championship honors. Another fast traveler is the Shooting Star II, with which H. A. Lozier, Jr., captured the Bourne trophy in the Thousand Islands tournament.

Among the other fast ones are the Flying Dutchman III, Winston, Six Shooter, Rochester, X. P. D. N. C., Skeeter, Wizard and Rosebud.

Racing will start at a point opposite West Ninety-seventh street, beginning at 10 o'clock each morning. On Thursday there will be races for cruising boats and open launches, with the high speed boats in the afternoon. On Friday will be the long distance race to Poughkeepsie and return, while Saturday will see races for all divisions. A double course has been laid out, one of ten knots and another of six and a half knots.
